

License agreement

The present license agreement is the document between the Content Creator (Seller) and the Buyer regarding the purchase and sale of the Content.

Parties to the agreement:

Creator (Seller) _____

By downloading the Content, the Seller agrees for its sale and use under the terms of the present license agreement.

Buyer _____

Purchasing the Content, the Buyer binds itself legally to terms of the present license agreement.

The below listed license terms apply at any sale of the Content from the Seller to the Buyer:

1. Right of ownership.

1.1 At the time of purchase of the Content, the Buyer accepts that pursuant to the present license agreement, the Seller retains the Copyright of the purchased Content under the ID__ ___ and the block chain identifier _____ on the site www.photogram2020.com

(Include the photo)

1.2 The Buyer agrees that any additional agreements, licenses, or any other requirements of the Seller, not set out in the present agreement, are invalid and shall be void.

2. License validity.

2.1 All license rights, relevant for the purchased Content, accrue after the Seller receives funds from the Buyer to the personal account.

2.2 All license rights become void and are terminated immediately and without prior notice, in case the sale of the Content (for any reason) failed.

3. Permissions.

3.1 The Seller grants the Buyer the license for its Content, which is distributed globally and grants the right to exploit in any form:

- for reproduction, advertising, distribution, public display, for advertising or commercial purposes;
- use of trademarks and corporate logos, contained in the Content, in relation to the Seller's products only;
- use of names and likenesses of any characters, represented in the Content, in relation to Your products only.

The Buyer's rights, specified in the present section, shall only be valid if the Content is part of the Buyer's final product.

3.2 Distribution and use of the Content as part of digital products is allowed in the following cases:

- use in images (still or animated), distributed as part of a feature film, direct "on-air" transmission, stock photos, or other stock media, that contains numerous elements, wherein the Content is the small part of the composition;
- for public use in various social networks, personal Blogs, and PHOTOGRAM.
- as a file format, available for 3D editors;
- the content, imaged in a book, poster, T-shirt, or other item;

3.4 The Buyer understands and accepts that the certain Content may contain copyrighted third-party materials or materials protected by the right to protect the registered trademark, and its use shall require additional licenses, permits, assignment instruments or waivers.

3.5 The Seller undertakes to license the content to any Buyer under the terms of the present license agreement.

4. Limitations and restrictions.

4.1 In the absence of additional written agreements, granting more rights than specified in Section 3, all other rights are not part of the present license agreement and are owned by the Seller.

4.2 The Buyer understands and accepts that it is banned to:

- Resell or distribute any Content as is and its modifications, unless it is used as an integral part of the Buyer's products, as aforesaid in the terms of the license;
- Distribute the Content as part of a set of other images;
- Any other distribution of the Content that would require written permission for the rights more extensive than those described in paragraph 3 of the present license agreement.

5. Final provision.

5.1 Editions of the present license agreement, published in foreign languages, are created for User convenience. If any inconsistency, the English version is legally effective.

5.2 Binding itself legally to terms of the present license agreement, the Seller (Content Creator) assumes full responsibility for compliance with applicable local and international laws when selling its Content.
